

On the STREETS

with Ralph Allison

A1: Well, this is quite a tricky situation: 1st attacker quickly grabs Mr Allison (the victim) in a strangle hold. A quick reaction by Mr. A. is now essential! A hard Chul Kwang - Do (CKD) front-round punch to the groin of the attacker is performed (the arm performing the immediate punch will also serve to partially protect Mr. A's face momentarily by coming across).

A2: First attacker is contemplating the damage to his groin when second attacker approaches. This is met by a CKD side-kick (Mr. A. is ready to perform CKD side fist strike with right hand if necessary).

A3: 1st attacker foolishly returns after recovering - Mr. A. steps in immediately to perform a CKD elbow strike. Job done - danger averted!
